

In Partnership With

SPORTING MEMORIES

REMINISCE • REPLAY • RECONNECT

Sporting Memories Activity Pack

Activity Pack

Uniting Generations Through Sport

This year, we are partnering with Sporting Memories to connect young and old people through sporting heritage, reminiscence, and inclusive activities. We are excited to share links to their fantastic resources, which you can download and use.

Dive in and Explore their activities designed to bridge the generation gap through sports!

Engaging Youth with Elders

The Replay Memory Makers™ toolkits from Sporting Memories are designed for schools and youth organisations and focus on bringing young people of all ages and elders together through the joy of sports. Our case studies show how sharing sporting memories can foster genuine connections, enhance empathy, and strengthen communities. Join us in creating memorable moments that bridge generations.

Ready to make a difference? Visit www.replaymemorymakers.com or www.sportingmemories.net

Relive the Glory: Memories of '66

Check out and share great Sporting Memories such as those from the 1966 World Cup which Sporting Memories collected as part of a project with the National Football Museum. See them here or look for them on our free App to download at www.memoriesof66.sportingmemories.net

Don't miss our video on one-to-one reminiscence! It's a great way for family members of residents to learn how to share memories with their loved ones using stories from our app or other memorabilia.

www.sportingmemories.uk/one-to-one

And if you're looking for cool stuff related to the World Cup, especially from 1966, swing by our shop and see our great selection of themed Replay sporting reminiscence cards. www.sportingmemories.uk/shop

Care Home Open Week

15th – 21st June 2026

www.championingsocialcare.org.uk

Supported by

